

Template letter for MPs:

Dear Mr/Mrs

I am delighted that the ban on the barren battery cage will take place as planned in 2012.

However, I write to express my concern about the enriched caged system which offers birds only fractional more room. Most of these eggs end up in processed food products and it is therefore difficult for consumers to clearly see that they are purchasing eggs from caged birds. I would like to see clear labelling on food products containing eggs from caged hens and would like to see greater incentives for British free range and barn farmers through Government aid.

Please can you advise me if you are doing anything to improve labelling and support British free range and barn egg producers.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely
