

Template letter for Food Manufacturers:

Dear Mr/Mrs

I write to express concern over the plight of battery hens and wish to draw your attention to the ever increasing number of people – myself included – who would prefer to purchase products containing British free range eggs.

I would therefore be grateful if you could introduce a premier line - cake, pasta, sandwich (whatever it is you're writing about) – using British free range eggs.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely
